Brigitte

Generous and welcoming, Brigitte armchair and Brigitte bergère offer a high degree of seating comfort. The space within the seats is open and generous enough to offer flexibility in seating attitudes and the bergère version offers a soft, semi-private personal space to retreat into.

1973 | CINI BOERI

Cini Boeri designed Botolo in 1973, giving life to a new design style, where you could choose the height of the legs to have a dining chair in the high version or a style, at that time modern, "the living at a low level", a way of living and sitting on the ground.
